ORDER

This is a Second Appeal filed by the appellant named above on 03.07.2020 in respect of his RTI application filed under Form-A before the PIO-cum-EE, RWD, Chayang Tajo Division, on 31.12.2019, wherein, seeking various information regarding construction of road from Chayang Tajo to Sanchu, etc.

This appeal has come up today for the first time before the Commission for hearing. Both appellant and PIO present through audio/video conferencing and being heard. Available materials on record also being carefully read and considered.

After hearing the parties and also after having careful considerations of the available materials on record the appeal is found technically defective liable for rejection on the ground, among others, as follows:

1. That, RTI application under Form-A of this appeal is found to have been filed on 31.12.2019 while the application fees of Rs.10/-(rupees ten) only is found to have been paid through Indian Postal Order on 15.10.2019, i.e, 2(two) months and 16(sixteen) days before submission of the RTI application. And it is surprisingly enough to see on record that the appellant obtained the acknowledgment letter as to receipt of the RTI application from PIO on 30.07.2019, i.e, before 5(five) months of his submission of the RTI application on 31.12.2019. But the appellant has no explanation on the above inconsistencies available on record.
2. He has indicated in Sl.No.8(b) of Form-E of this appeal to the effect that he has filed this appeal on being aggrieved by the response received
